Indictment Returned Against Area Woman

Dr. Marvin English, Dean of the graduate school, National College of Education, pondering a question asked by Antioch High School teachers during an all day workshop Monday regarding his topic "What Does It Mean To Teach?"

Labor Day Reckers Holiday Hazards Earns Diploma

The Lake County Safety Commissioners asked that we make the last holiday of the summer season the safest one of the season. Adjust your driving habits to heavier traffic and higher speeds. Drive defensively, allow plenty of time for that week-end trip.

Unless Lake County drivers mend their habits, this Labor Day holiday week end could cost lives in our County. Speeding and drinking have been the two most common law violations. Don't you join this lethal combination. Watch your own driving and watch out for the reckless "other guy!"

In any holiday period, the first twelve hours are the most dangerous. When you plan your Labor Day holiday week-end trip, allow plenty of time, drive relaxed and obey all traffic laws.

The Safety Commission urges you to make sure your car is in good condition and equipped with seat belts before you start on that Labor Day week-end trip. Buckle up for safety. Your seat belt may save your life.

If you share the road with other drivers and offer courtesy to other users of the road, your Labor Day holiday trip will be more relaxing and much safer. Make certain other following drivers know that you intend to turn, stop or slow down in plenty of time so that they may take the necessary precautions to prevent an accident.

This Labor Day holiday, if you are planning a trip, allow plenty of time for rest stops every two hours or for every 100 miles you travel.

Preston J. Reckers, vice president, State Bank of Antioch, was awarded a diploma at the commencement exercises of The Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, on Friday evening, Aug. 28, 1970. Graduation requires attendance at three annual two-week sessions on the Madison campus and the satisfactory completion of extension problems between the resident sessions.

The School is sponsored by The Central States Conference of Bankers Associations, consisting of bankers associations from 16 Midwestern states. Over 1,450 bankers are enrolled this year from 39 states, and several foreign countries.

The present high standards of banking service in communities throughout the country will be enhanced by attendance of local bank officers at this specialized banking school.

The faculty of over 135 instructors includes bankers who are specialists in their respective fields, practicing attorneys, business executives, economists, and members of over a dozen university and college faculties. The instructors are among the most competent men in their professions. Many of them are nationally known authorities in their special lines and come from all parts of the United States.

Among the featured speakers at the 1970 session were The Honorable Paul W. McCracken, Chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers; The Honorable George W. Mitchell, member of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D. C.; Charles Bartlett, syndicated newspaper columnist from Washington, D. C.; Dr. Walter W. Heller, Professor of Economics, the University of Minnesota, and The Honorable Bruce K. McLaury, Deputy Under-Secretary of the

Dr. Berke In Zion

Dr. A. N. Berke is now practicing once again at the Zion-Benton Hospital, it has been announced.

Dr. Berke, who has been in the Antioch area for many years, began at the hospital as a staff member during the day on August 24.

The Lake County Grand Jury Tuesday indicted an Antioch Township woman for attempted murder and aggravated battery.

The jury returned the indictment before Lake County Chief Circuit Judge LaVerne A. Dixon. Charged is Mrs. Elizabeth Waters, 40, of RFD 3, Box 749, Antioch. Her bond was set at $10,000.

Mrs. Waters is charged with the shooting last July 4 of Mrs. Jeanie McCarthy, 21, of rural Antioch. Both women live on Waters Road.

Mrs. McCarthy was shot as the climax of an argument between the two families. She was wounded in the right hip, according to deputies who took the report of the incident at the time.

The shooting took place outside the McCarthy home on Waters Road and Mrs. McCarthy was reported standing 25 feet away from Mrs. Waters when the shooting took place.

Mrs. McCarthy was taken to St. Theresa Hospital for treatment after the shooting.

Mrs. Waters claimed she fired the gun in self-defense. A .25 caliber weapon was surrendered by Mrs. Waters.

The presentation of the case to the jury was made by Lake County State's Attorney Jack Hoogasian.

Drive Defensively

This weekend is the long Labor Day weekend.

And once again we want to caution the travelers to be careful on the highways.

This is the last summer weekend and many of us tend to get careless in our driving habits, thinking of the summer that has flown, rather than the traffic we are in.

We would urge you to take it easy this weekend.

We would urge you not to drive unless it is necessary to do so.

But if you do drive, drive defensively. That has proven, statistically, to be the best way.

We would rather that you don't get counted in the traffic fatality or injury list this year.

So, if you must drive, try to do it in daylight hours so that you can be around to enjoy the next holiday.

As for us.

We are staying home.

Sight-Saving Month

Young and old, rich and poor, men, women and children—an estimated 34,200 more individuals in this nation will be blind before another year is out.

For some, blindness will come slowly, from disease.

For others, sight loss will be immediate, as the result of accidents.

For many, ignorance and neglect will be contributing factors.

And the worst part of it is that half of those 34,200 people need never become blind.

September is Sight-Saving Month, the annual intensive campaign of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness to alert the American public to this fact: fully half of all blindness can be prevented.

Although activities continue year 'round, during Sight-Saving Month the Society and its state affiliates step up efforts to inform people all over the country about the causes of needless vision loss.

The Society's programs focus on glaucoma and cataract, which blind more adults than any other cause; on vision testing of children, especially during the pre-school years, the critical time for successful treatment of some vision disorders; and on eye safety in schools and industry, where eye injuries as the result of accidents are most acute.

The Society has informational materials on these and many topics, available for the asking.

Founded in 1908, the Society is the oldest voluntary health agency nationally engaged in the prevention of blindness through a comprehensive program of community services, public and professional education and research.

This paper endorses the programs of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness in its continuing efforts to detect and fight the causes of needless sight loss among the people of the United States.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor

Dear Sir,

The League of Women Voters of Lake County would like to remind all eligible voters who are not registered that the closing date for registration to vote in November is on October 5. Each year many people are disappointed to find that they cannot vote because they were not aware of the mandatory closing of registration previous to each election.

College students are urged to register early, before leaving for school. This is particularly important now that the franchise has been extended to 18 year olds, who are being registered in Lake County and kept separately pending a court decision. (Persons under 21 are not eligible to vote in Illinois until after January 1, 1971, even if the law is upheld.)

Residency requirements in Illinois are one year in the state, 90 days in the county, and 30 days in the precinct. For further information, including where to register, contact your township supervisor or the county clerk's office in Waukegan.

Yours truly,

Patricia S. Parker

Campus Violence: What Can Be Done?

In my last column I touched briefly on the causes for campus unrest. What can be done about it? Here are a few suggestions:

1. Listen. Those over 25 should be listening to students, and students to those over 25. If both sides do less shouting, and more listening we would discover we are not as far apart in our goals as many believe.
2. Examine whether some of our universities are too big, whether some have been permitted to grow too rapidly. My impression is that the large university, where the student feels he is little more than part of an intellectual factory, adds substantially to our problems.
3. Students must be given a meaningful role in determining policy. This does not mean that students vote, for example, on whether or not a school stays open. Southern Illinois University made a mistake in doing that.

I am not suggesting that students should run colleges; sensible students are not asking for that. But they do want to feel that their voice is heard. Students can contribute greatly to the input of ideas which can make for a better school. They should be given the chance.

4. Universities must make clear their rules and students must know that violation means expulsion.

No administrator, student, parent or anyone else should have any questions on this point.

5. Schools should encourage student participation in the processes of government, and in helping to meet the problems which our society confronts. If sufficient numbers of students want to participate in a week off for election campaigns, schools can adjust the school calendar by shortening the Christmas vacation and extending the calendar at the end of the year a few days. Colleges should also encourage students who want to participate in tutoring programs and other efforts which help these not enjoying the full fruits of our society.

6. Colleges must screen faculty more carefully to make sure that instructors are emotionally mature.

Until recently there was a teacher shortage, and colleges had to grab almost anyone who had a degree. Fortunately almost all of these teachers have been good. The period of teacher shortages is now past, and administrators can be more selective. They should make sure that young people who are in a period of life of emotional insecurity have as teachers men and women who share concerns but not substantial emotional problems.

7. The draft should be changed.

More and more I am moved to believe that the draft ought to be universal in its application to the male population at about the age of 19. Those drafted should be given a choice of service in the armed forces, in the Peace Corps (if they qualify), in Vista, and in perhaps a dozen other areas of choice which could be developed. Those without the ability to read and write, or with no marketable skill, could acquire these during this period, rather than not be drafted. The present draft exemption for college students is weighted in favor of those with money, because a smaller percentage of the poor can make it to college. It also brings onto college campuses some who really are not interested in an education but want to escape the service.

8. The few who are bent on violence who live off campus, who are not students, must be restrained.

Whether this is done by court injunction, or how, is one of the questions some are struggling with. The answer must be within the framework of our laws and constitution, but more suitable answers must be found.

per semester hour, plus a registration and activity fee per semester hour of $75. A late registration fee of $3.00 will be charged for students registering after Sept. 10. Illinois students who are not legal residents of Junior College District No. 532 shall pay an extra charge equal to the per capita semester hour less tuition and state apportionment unless they obtain an approved "Authorization for Partial Student Support" from their local high school or junior college district.

A wide range of courses is being offered during the fall semester and will be of interest to recent high school graduates as well as adults who wish to earn college credits or to pursue courses for personal or professional improvement. The University Parallel Program is designed to prepare students to enter a four-year college or university at the junior level. Credits earned in the University Parallel Program are transferable to other colleges and universities.

The variety of curricula in the Career Programs leads to employment in business, industry, medical, and service occupations. Students are able to acquire formal training needed to further prepare themselves for advancement in their present jobs, or another career.

The Continuing Education and Community Services programs are offered for the College community residents who desire to broaden their intellectual, cultural, and vocational experience and knowledge.

The Developmental Services of the College are designed to assist in developing abilities in the areas of English, reading, and mathematics. A GED course will be offered to aid adults in obtaining a high school equivalency certificate.

The fall semester Class Schedule listing the courses to be offered as well as an application for admission may be obtained from the Director of Admissions, College of Lake County, 19351 W. Washington Street, Grayslake.

Prolonging Lawn Equipment Life

Caring for the lawn and family garden is an enjoyable hobby or weekend pastime for many people. With today's versatile lawn and garden power equipment, most of the physical work is eliminated and outdoor chores are pleasant to do.

Pleasant, that is, unless your power equipment "balks" and fails to operate the way it should.

Proper care of your equipment, whether it be a power mower, riding mower or tiller, can help prevent most malfunctions that lurk in poorly cared for air-cooled gasoline engines. Preventive maintenance can also save you from possible costly repairs at your local authorized engine service dealer.

Here are some major areas where proper attention will pay off in superior engine performance, longer engine life and fewer service problems:

Fuel — Use only fresh, "regular" grade gasoline in four cycle engines. Gasoline deteriorates with age forming gums and residues which coat the internal parts of the carburetor and cause a loss of power and starting problems. If your equipment is powered by a two cycle engine, use only a good grade oil and gasoline mix. Be sure to consult the instruction book which came with your equipment for the proper mixture for your specific engine design.

If fuel is stored for a short period, be sure the container is clean, covered and safety approved.

Lubrication — The correct grade and viscosity of crankcase oil are vital for proper lubrication of four cycle engine bearings and working parts. Your equipment use and care manual or engine labels will specify what type oil to use. Check the oil level frequently and when low, add oil until the "level" mark is reached.

In a two cycle engine, the oil added to the fuel is the only lubricant the vital internal engine parts receive. Oil grade and proper mixing proportions are extremely important.

Air Cleaner — Service the air cleaner periodically. Since there are many different types oil bath, dry cartridge and oil foam — and many design styles, consult your equipment use and care manual for servicing instructions. If you use your equipment in extremely dusty conditions, check and service the air cleaner more frequently.

Shrouds — Keep all shrouds and guards on power equipment in place and secure. Make sure all moving parts, such as the blower wheel, fan, belts and chains are covered for safety.

Engine shrouds are necessary to the engine's cooling system. Keep them and the engine cooling fins free of grass, oil, dirt and debris. Keep all bolts, screws and fasteners tight.

Following these simple maintenance procedures require but little time and will prolong your equipment's life. An annual servicing of your equipment by an authorized engine service dealer can provide you even more assurance of trouble free operation.

Servicing dealers for all air-cooled gasoline engines are listed in your telephone book Yellow Pages under "Engines, Gasoline."

We referred you to your equipment use and care manual several times in this article. If you have lost or mislaid your manual and your equipment is powered by a quality Tecumseh air-cooled gasoline engine, write to Tecumseh Products Company, Lauson Power Products Engine Divisions, Gratiot, Wisconsin, 53024, Attention: Advertising Department, for a free replacement copy. Be sure to provide them with your engine model and serial number so the correct manual is sent.

Fight On Pollution Spreading

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has announced that the nation's 3,500-member National District Attorneys Association will join forces with the Attorneys General of the 50 states in a combined legal attack on pollution.

Scott, keynote speaker at the District Attorneys' annual national convention in Chicago, told the prosecutors:

"We are quick to regard the wanton destruction of property as a crime. Our nation must now understand — quickly — that the destruction of our environment is equally criminal and certainly as frightening. Property can be replaced, our environment is irreplaceable."

Following Scott's address, the convention formed — for the first time — an antipollution action committee which will commit the nation's criminal prosecutors to the pollution fight for the first time in history. First chairman of the national group will be Sedgwick County Attorney Keith Sanborn of Wichita, Kansas. Elected vice chairman was Earl Morgan, district attorney from Birmingham, Alabama.

Scott announced later that the new committee will join forces with the anti-pollution task force of the National Association of Attorneys General, of which Scott is chairman.

He commented: "We are going to meet jointly and as soon as possible to draw the blueprints for a nationwide legal attack on all forms of pollution."

"We want an impact strategy that lines up the attorneys general of the 50 states against major polluters, while county prosecutors are moving against pollution sources in their own communities and counties. By working together, we can solve this problem — county-by-county, state-by-state — and get this job done."

In his keynote address, Scott told the prosecutors: "Pollution, like crime, does not stop at political or geographic boundaries. No attorney general can do this job alone. No county prosecutor can do it alone. There can be no boundaries in this battle. There can be no holding back in any sector of this nation."

"Finally, it should be clear to all of us that because pollution is a crime against people, it is our job as the attorneys of the people to safeguard their environment."

Scott urged the officials to immediately seek special ecological training for their staffs, to push hard into the sector of common law powers which deal with public nuisances and health violations, and to "pursue meaningful legislation in your own legislatures, legislation that really counts, that really meets this problem head-on. We have such legislation in Illinois and we're putting it to work."

Following his address, Attorney General Scott met with the members of the association's new environmental committee.

Later, he was scheduled to fly to San Francisco for a progress meeting with California Attorney General Thomas Lynch, who is working jointly with Scott in Scott's suit to compel the nation's major auto, truck and bus manufacturers to equip the vehicles with pollution-control or emission devices.

Scott was accompanied to the national prosecutors' convention by Assistant Attorney General Joel Flaum, chief of Scott's Criminal Justice Division.

Also attending the convention from Illinois were Cook County State's Attorney Edward Hanrahan and Lake County State's Attorney Jack Hoogasian.

"The actual rise is not yet known because complete data are not yet available on some programs. However, it is known that there was an increase of 9,710 in the number of persons receiving money payments from either aid to dependent children or assistance to the aged, blind, or disabled. Cook County accounted for 8,049 of the increase and downstate counties, 1,661," Swank said.

He added, "Data are not yet available on total expenditures and the number of persons who received local general assistance or medical assistance only."

During June, the latest month of complete records for all programs, the state's public aid rolls reached 642,936 persons, an increase of 8,982 over May and 103,411 higher than a year ago.

All programs increased. The net gain of 8,982 reflects a decrease of 2,201 persons in 54 counties; an increase of 11,183 in 47 counties; and no change in one county. Cook County's increase was 9,176.

Total June expenditures were $56,472,866, an increase of $227,691 over May and an increase of $13,956,707 over June 1969. Current expenditures include $539,852 in payments for foster care, aid to the medically indigent in Chicago and Cicero, and burials.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Folbrick

Patricia Anne Wells Weds Terry Folbrick

On August 8, 1970, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wells, Sr., entertained approximately 500 guests at one of the most unusually outstanding weddings to take place in Antioch in many years.

Their daughter, Patricia Anne, became the bride of Mr. Terry Folbrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Toton, in a double ring ceremony at St. Peter's Church, with the Reverend Alfred Henderson officiating.

The bride chose a gown of white nylon dotted swiss and white cut lace. It was styled with an empire bodice, long sheer sleeves, a high neck, and a semi-A-line skirt that fell to a chapel length train also trimmed with white cut lace. Her illusion veil was held by a flower camelot of white petals. She carried a round French bouquet of stephanotis and daisy compoms.

Mrs. Ginny Henning served as her sister's matron of honor, Miss Karen Van Buren and Miss Ida Curry were bridesmaids.

The matron of honor and bridesmaids chose bouffant gowns of mint green dotted swiss with full hooped skirts and lantern sleeves and a high neck bodice of white cut lace. They wore matching straw picture hats with white streamers and carried natural straw flower baskets holding an arrangement of white daisies, baby breath and ivy.

The mother of the bride chose a beige lace sheath with scoop neck, long sleeves and beige accessories. The mother of the groom wore a pink lace pleated dress with a pink lace long sleeved jacket and pink accessories.

The best man was Mr. Al Henkel of New York and Mr. Peter Zeien and Mr. Peter Lishamer of Antioch were groomsmen. Tim and Terry Wells, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

After the ceremony, the couple was transported by an old fashioned horse drawn carriage to the John Wells residence.

Upon entering the drive, a huge white wedding bell hung over the place where the guests departed from their cars. From there the guests were offered cocktails at a long bar or were seated at white lined tables set with flowers and champagne glasses.

The guests helped themselves to wine from a champagne fountain, and after a buffet dinner of homemade food and wedding cake they danced to the orchestra which played continuously on the brightly decorated patio or were seated at tables and chairs set up under a large tent.

After a two week honeymoon in Acapulco, the young couple is at home in Antioch.

Girl's State Experiences Are Related

By Del Jahacke

Two months have passed since Ronna Andrews attended Illini Girl's State, held on the MacMurray College Campus in Jacksonville in late June, yet Ronna is as enthusiastic as ever about this week long program.

As Ronna recounted her experiences and activities at Illini Girl's State, she showed her Scrapbook of her stay there; her admiration for this program was evident in every dynamic word and gesture.

Girl's State, a nation-wide project in all fifty states and sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, has each state conducting their own program.

The purpose of Illini Girl's State is to provide citizenship training for Illinois high school girls in the Junior class, giving them an opportunity to live together as self governing citizens, and informing them of their duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities as American citizens so that they may better understand and participate in the functioning of our government.

To accomplish this purpose, a mythical government is set up, patterned on the Illinois forms of government, with campaigns and elections of officials on the city, county and state levels. Only girls of high moral caliber and good scholastic standing are selected for this program.

There are 28 mythical cities contained in seven counties and named after past Department

Presidents of the Illinois American Legion Auxiliary. In campaigning for State's Attorney for her County, Ronna had the honor of winning this office. She received a Certificate of Office, stating that she was the duly elected State's Attorney of Soli-day County. Ronna told of their trip to Springfield, visiting the old and new State Capitols, seeing other government buildings, and both viewing and hearing the beautiful Thomas Rees Carillon.

According to Ronna, she heard lectures on government and parliamentary procedures by various professors and teachers from other colleges. Everything was so well planned, and all lectures given in such an interesting fashion, the girl staters were never bored while learning facts about the government, current civic problems, etc.

Among the dignitaries who appeared at the College and gave talks, were State Lt. Governor Paul Simon; Secretary of State Paul Powell; and State Superintendent of Schools Ray Page.

When questioned as to her thoughts on Girl's State, Ronna quickly replied: "It was very impressive, and such an enjoyable and educational experience. It was an ideal way to learn government and parliamentary procedure."

The night before the girl staters returned home, a lovely candle-light ceremony was held inside the chapel, and afterwards, on the grounds outside. There were many a lump in the throat and a dry eye as the girls, counselors and American Legion Auxiliary staff sang songs, together. Ronna said it was amazing how difficult it was to say "Good-bye" to these newly found friends.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Andrews, 696 Hillside, Antioch, Ronna is 17 years old, and will be a senior at Antioch Community High School this fall. She has been active in school activities, and will enter her senior year as president of the G.A.A. (Girl's Athletic Association). She is a member of the Color Guard (only a girl in good standing in the G.A.A. can be a member). The Color Guard performs at all school sport functions, P.T.A. meetings, etc. She is also secretary of the Student Council.

Ronna has tentative plans for attending either Northern Illinois or Western Illinois University, to prepare for a teaching career.

The Antioch American Legion Auxiliary No. 748 is proud of this Girl Stater they sponsored, as they have been of all their many previous Girl Staters. Mrs. Joseph Horton is the Antioch Unit Illini Girl's State Chairman.

American Legion Auxiliary News

By Del Jahneke

Representing the 10th District American Legion Auxiliary at the national convention of the American Legion and the Auxiliary, held in Portland, Oregon, Aug. 28 - Sept. 2, are delegates Mrs. Robert Broege, Deerfield, District President, and Mrs. Richard Brady, Gurnee, District Chaplain.

The highlight of the convention to the nearly one million Auxiliary members, nation-wide, and especially to the 73,000 members in Illinois, will be the election and installation of unopposed candidate, Mrs. Charles Shaw of Paxton, Illinois, as National President. Since serving as Department President, Mrs. Shaw has consistently held important national chairmanships—a necessary requisite for holding the highest office in the largest organization of patriotic women in the world. Some of her national chairmanships include that of Americanism, Child Welfare, Communications and Rehabilitation.

Mrs. Shaw is a University of Illinois graduate, and has headed her own insurance company for years. Her interest in civic, church and fraternal organizations has long been a matter of record. Her special interest, however, has always been in the State President Mrs. Bernard Schmidt of Moline, and the new state officers, will present an outline of the year's activities in all the Auxiliary programs.

There will be an installation of District Junior Officers at the Lake Zurich American Legion Home, on Sept. 13, at 2 p.m. according to co-chairmen Mrs. Richard Stastny, Mundelein, and Mrs. R. Joseph Horton accompanied by Mrs. Effie Nelson and Mr. John V. Horton were guests of John D. Horton of Dwight, Ill., on Sunday. The happy occasion was a family birthday celebration for three-year old Jennifer Kaye, daughter of John D. Horton and great-granddaughter of Joseph Horton.

The Bernard DeVries family, North Avenue, Antioch spent the previous weekend at Sparta and LaCrosse, Wis., enjoying a large family reunion, and visiting with "Bernie's" parents, brothers and relatives. Denver, Colo., Honolulu, Hawaii, Antioch and Wisconsin communities were all represented by various family members. The DeVries brought their daughter, Colleen, home after her week's stay in Wisconsin.

Last Wednesday evening, Aug. 26, Miss Sandra Ludwig was the happily surprised recipient of many lovely gifts, given to her at a "Gold and White" bridal Shower. Twenty-five ladies of Women's Missionary Society of the Antioch Evangelical Free Church were present in the church gymnasium. It was beautifully decorated with a yellow and white floral daisy motif, and all matching table decorations. Mrs. Alan Knutesen gave devotions that were particularly appropriate for a new bride-to-be.

Miss Ludwig had to prove to the ladies that she could "sew a fine seam", sewing on a button, etc. Many laughs were shared when each lady told "How I Met My Husband." Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Alan Knutesen, Mrs. Robert Dunlap, Jr., Mrs. Stanley Anderson, Mrs. Edward Jahneke, Jr., and Mrs. John Handschegel.

To the mothers of daughters in the Brownie and Girl Scout age categories: "How would you like to be either a Brownie or Girl Scout Leader?" asks Mrs. Bernard DeVries, Girl Scout organizer for Service Unit No. 16, which includes all the schools in the Antioch Township area. Leaders are badly needed, and any women who would be interested in the worthwhile activities of Girl Scouting, are urged to contact Mrs. DeVries, phone 395-3975.

The senior Ed Jahneke attended the 25th wedding anniversary of Ed's sister and her husband, the Leon Vandborgs, of rural Minooka, on Sunday, Aug. 23. The party was held at the William Scheel's home in Lockport, the Vandborgs' oldest daughter. Some thirty family members and guests helped the Vandborgs celebrate the happy occasion. Sister Charles Jahneke, father of Mrs. Vandborg and Ed, had died several years before the wedding. Ed "gave" his sister in marriage. It was a day of pleasant recollections!

The regular Garden Club meeting was held at Mrs. Walter Thompson's home, Aug. 24, in Spring Grove. A delightful luncheon was enjoyed by those attending.

Mrs. Fred Weldt of Camp Lake was voted in as a new member. The next meeting will be the card party.

Cleaning Is Most Irritating

Ask a housewife what part of her daily routine irritates her most, and it is a safe bet that she will say, "cleaning."

The Chicago Better Heating-Cooling Council got that answer when it conducted a survey recently. According to the survey, most of the ladies felt that their heating systems were to blame for a good deal of the dust and dirt that accumulate in the house. If it were up to the women of America, clean and maintenance-free heat would be their first concern when selecting a new heating system.

Some complained that their heating systems were equipped with fans and blowers which, they claimed, spread dust and dirt whenever the thermostat called for heat. Others felt the fuel was to blame for smudges found on walls around the heating registers.

Although the complaints are real, the Council advises that a properly installed heating system does not create dirt. Daily home activities (cooking, tracking dirt in from outside) are responsible. However, dust and dirt can be stirred up by the heating system if it blows or moves air too forcefully.

Moreover, as the air is heated, its movement increases, and a faulty heating system operating at excessively high temperatures will "raise" a greater amount of dust and dirt which cling to walls, draperies and furniture, the Council points out.

One of the cleanest heating units is hydronic (modern hot water) baseboard because it operates at moderate temperatures and circulates the air gently.

Jaycees To Host Tourney

Slow pitch softball champions from several states will be in Waukegan Labor day weekend to vie for the national 16" slow pitch softball tournament crown. The tournament is sponsored by the Waukegan-North Chicago Jaycees in conjunction with the Waukegan Park District and the Amateur Softball Association.

All games in the double elimination tournament will be played at Waukegan's Dugdale Park, and defending national champion Carlucci's of Fox Lake, Ill., will be back this year to defend its title.

Last year Carlucci's beat Sloboles of Cicero for the national title in a tournament held in Sheboygan, Wis. It is expected Sloboles will be entered this year as Chicago Metropolitan champ.

So far the states of Virginia, South Dakota, Minnesota, Michigan, Iowa, Indiana and Illinois have announced that their respective state champions will enter the competition which opens Friday, Sept. 4, at 7 p.m.

Host teams for the tournament will be Joe's of Waukegan, a team with most of its members from the local team known as Freddie's Lounge.

Play Saturday will begin at 9 a.m., and run through 10 p.m. The same type of schedule is set for Sunday with the championship to be played Sunday night, unless a Monday playoff is needed because of the double elimination aspect of the tournament.

The Jaycees are sponsoring the tournament and hope to use the money raised to further their community betterment projects.

Community Hospitals Expenses Hit Billion

The 257 community hospitals in Illinois reported total expenses of $1 billion in 1969, Henry J. Kutsch, president of the Illinois Hospital Association, announced. Kutsch, president of the Ravenswood Hospital Medical Center in Chicago, said this was a 17.4 per cent increase over the total expenses reported by these hospitals in 1968.

Average expense per patient day increased from $62.24 in 1968 to $71.12 last year. And, Kutsch predicted that this would be more than $80.00 per patient day before the end of 1970. He also reported that the average length of stay in Illinois hospitals was 9.0 days, more than a half day longer than the national average. These data are from the 1969 hospital survey of the American Hospital Association.

"Payroll continues to be the major factor in the growth of hospitals' total expenses," Kutsch said. Illinois community hospitals employed 110,666 people last year. He said this amounts to a hospital employing 275 health care workers for every 100 patients, compared to 259 employees per 100 patients in 1968.

Community hospitals in the state reported $618 million paid in wages and salaries in 1969, a 15.5 per cent increase over the $535 million paid the previous year.

"Part of this jump in payroll is due to the increase in technical personnel needed to provide a higher level of patient care. However," Kutsch pointed out, "the really significant increase is caused by trying to keep pace with the wage adjustments in other industries."

Kutsch said that hospitals are

September Proclaimed

Pork Month

Governor Richard Ogilvie has proclaimed September as Illinois Pork Month in recognition of the outstanding nutritive contributions and fine eating quality of this popular meat. Today's pork is better than ever, and Mrs. Consumer should be aware of the transformation pork has undergone during the past decade or two.

That descriptive expression "fat as a pig" doesn't ring true nowadays. For today's pork has acquired a streamlined figure to meet the demands of calorie-conscious Americans. The plump pig of grandma's day was padded with dozens of pounds more fat than the average porker of today, according to John Lane, Secretary of the Pork Industry Committee of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. This slimmer, trimmer animal, however, is almost two pounds heavier. The apparent mathematical discrepancy is accounted for by the fact that today's animal carries 14½ pounds more lean meat.

The result of this figure transformation is reflected in a substantial lowering of the calories provided by a serving of pork. Today's pork has 36 per cent fewer calories and provides 22 per cent more protein than was formerly believed. Now a single 3½ ounce serving fills 44 per cent of the daily recommended protein allowance for an average man; 52 per cent for an average woman. Important, too, is the fact that this animal protein contains all the essential amino acids necessary to build, maintain and repair body tissues and increase resistance to infection and disease.

Pork leads all foods in supplying the important vitamin thiamin, a serving filling about three-fourths of an average man's daily need. It also is an excellent source of the vitamins niacin and riboflavin and the mineral iron.

An asset to the diet from a nutritional standpoint, pork also is valued for its delectable flavor and juicy goodness. In these respects, too, pork is better than ever.

Cooking recommendations for pork have undergone change too, as a result of research, the recommended internal temperature to which fresh pork should be roasted has been reduced from 180 degrees F. to 170 degrees F. The result is a juicier roast, less cooking loss and decreased roasting time.

A meat thermometer takes the guess work out of roasting and assures top eating quality. Those extra minutes often added to cooking time "to be sure it's done" rob a roast of its juicy perfection.

Today's roast pork is truly a dish to set before the king of a household.

already feeling pressure for higher paychecks, caused by the recent inflationary increases in wages in the construction, trucking, utilities, auto, and steel industries. "But the sad fact is," he explained, "these wage increases enable the hospital employees to just hold their own in the cost of living spiral."

"The major expense to hospitals in providing health care is the payroll for the people who provide the care," Kutsch said. "And as long as the pressure for higher wages continues, the cost of health care will continue to rise."

Kutsch said that most of the hospitals in Illinois are nonfederal community general hospitals. There are 312 hospitals in the state which were registered by the American Hospital Association last year. This total count includes all federal hospitals, long-term hospitals with stays longer than 30 days, as well as other special facilities such as psychiatric hospitals and tuberculosis institutions.

The Illinois Hospital Association is a voluntary organization of 300 hospitals in the state. It acts as the spokesman and program coordinator for hospitals in their interactions with professional societies, public groups and both voluntary and governmental agencies.

The High School League at the Antioch Bowling Lanes came to an end Thursday, Aug. 6, with the teams receiving their trophies.

Rifles Win Opener Against West Allis

Lake County began defense of their Southern Division title Saturday night, with avengeful 29 to 6 victory over the West Allis Spartans, before 2,500 fans at Carmel Stadium in Mundelein.

West Allis beat the Rifles last year for the league title, and this opening season victory helped soothe the wounds from last year's upset defeat.

With a minute and a half left in the first quarter, the Rifles' Glenn Johnson climaxed a 33 yard drive in 6 plays with a 12 yard burst into the end zone to give Lake County the lead. Lee Rice added the extra point and the score became 7 to 0.

Four minutes later, Johnson again found paydirt on a 2 yard run, and Lake County led, 13 to 0. This touchdown was set up by a recovered West Allis fumble on the Spartan 22 yard line. Rice's PAT attempt was wide and the 13 to 0 score continued until five minutes remained in the half. At that point the Rifles forged ahead 20 to 0 on an 18 yard scoring aerial from Bob Caress to Terry Rudnick. The play followed a poor 7 yard punt by the Spartans' Dan Celoni. The ball went out of bounds off the side of his foot, at the West Allis 18 yard line and Lake County needed just one "bomb" to score. Rice added the extra point and it looked as if the Rifles would take a 20 point lead into the locker room at half time.

West Allis though, had other ideas. Ron Bruce intercepted a Bob Caress pass, with a leaping grab at his own 20 yard line, and rambled down the west sidelines 69 yds. to the Lake County 11 yard line. Three plays later from the 4, Al Charnish hit Tony Catarozzi with a short pass at the line of scrimmage, and Catarozzi twisted his way past three Rifle defenders to score the Spartans only touchdown, with only :03 seconds remaining in the first half. Pat Owens blocked Tony Fronsak's extra point attempt, and the half-time score became 20 to 6.

West Allis controlled the ball at the start of the third quarter, for 14 plays and 7:02 minutes; but could not score. Their drive stalled on the Lake County 19 yard line and gave indications that this was not to be their night. Later in the third quarter with less than a minute left, Ryan Strong booted a perfect 25 yard field goal for Lake County, and the Rifles' lead mounted to 23 to 6.

Four fumble turnovers plagued West Allis all night, and with 6 minutes left in the game, the Rifles scored again, capitalizing on the fourth fumble. From his end zone, Al Charnish's replacement at quarterback, Chris Dawson, found Tom Strohm open at his 10 yard line. Strohm gathered in the ball, ripped past the Rifle defender, and moved to the Spartan 32 yard line. There he was hit hard and fumbled the ball on one bounce into the arms of the Rifles' LaVern Pottinger, who wormed his way 13 yards to the Spartan 20 yard line. Five plays later, Bob Caress sneaked over from the 1 yard line and Lake County had their 29 to 6 victory.

Glenn Johnson had a good first half, grinding out 46 yards in 13 carries, before giving way to Chester Ball in the second half. Ball added 26 yards in 9 carries, and Ed Butela contributed 33 yards in 7, before being relieved by Mark Metcalf who added another 24 yards in 5 attempts. Bob Caress hit on 9 of 17 passing attempts for 58 yards and one touchdown, before giving way to Lee Rice late in the fourth quarter. The only bright spots for West Allis were, Dan Davis' 54 yard dance with a kickoff return prior to a Spartan fumble late in the first half, and Ron Bruce's 69 yard interception return that led to the Spartans' only score. Glenn Johnson was voted offensive player of the game honors, while Rifle linebacker, Don Rowden received defensive honors for his 10 tackles and outstanding all-round play.

Saturday night August 29, the Rifles journeyed again to Delavan to tackle the Red Devils. Two weeks ago the Red Devils handed the Rifles their only exhibition loss in the club's history, 13 to 12. Last year Lake County beat Delavan 42 to 41 in one of the wildest league contests in CSFL history, as both teams combined for over 1,100 yards through the air. Remember, radio station WEA-FM (102.3) will carry this 8 p.m. game with Jack Kelly and Jim Wallace at the play by play microphones.

May, Young Steal Show

Ray Young of Dolton and Bob May of Gurnee stole the show once again at the Waukegan Speedway Saturday night. They met in four late model events with each winning two by close margins. Young was victorious in the 30 lap feature.

May started out the night by equalling the one lap qualifying record with a blistering 14.21 circuit. Young was second in time at 14.23. Young and May worked ed their way through the trophy dash cars nose-to-tail and when Tom Jones of Northbrook bobbed on the final lap, Young and May streaked across the finish line in that order.

The fast heat race found May with the advantage after the first lap over Young and the two were running one-two by the fourth lap. In the remaining six laps Young was unable to get around

May and the two took the checkered flag side-by-side with May the winner in a popular decision. Jim Cossman of Waukegan took third on the 18th lap and finished there in front of Anzinger and Jones.

Tom Oliver of Zion extended his hobby stock point lead as the rookie driver took advantage of a red flag and restart to win the hobby feature race.

Young Winner Of Fifth Feature

Ray Young of Dolton just managed to win his fifth consecutive feature Sunday night at the Waukegan Speedway after Jim Cossman of Waukegan led until the 24th lap and then tried to regain the lead before crashing in the closing laps.

Young and Cossman set such a fast pace that Young, with the win, lowered the 30 lap track record by nearly three seconds. Bob May of Gurnee finished second for the second night in a row and Vern Browne of Waukegan was third after being a spectator at Saturday's races.

Two drivers did beat Young in the preliminaries with Bob Anzinger winning the trophy dash and Al Gutche of Bristol beating Young in a 10 lap heat in a side-by-side finish.

The first heat race was stopped by a spectacular two car crash which severely damaged the cars of Jim Zimmerman of Mundelein and J. P. Gatti of Chicago.

Nick Dowdal of Zion, Gutche and Anzinger led the late model main before Cossman took the lead in the sixth lap. Young tried for first spot from that point on, but Cossman held on until Young slipped ahead in the first turn on the 24th lap.

The hobby stock events were full of action with Chuck Chadwick of Lake Zurich bypassing the spills to win the dash, a heat and finally the feature.

The Labor Day Weekend at the Speedway will see racing on three nights. The midgets will race Friday and then the late models will run in 50 lap championship features on both Saturday and Sunday nights. The hobby stocks will race all three nights.

Sullivan Sweeps At Wilmot

Jim Sullivan, Fox Lake, led all the laps in the 30 lap feature at the Kenosha County Speedway to get his first win of the season at Wilmot and his third of the season on the IRA Circuit of Super.

He also won at Lake Geneva and at Raceway Park. His win Saturday night continued the trend to block point leader Whitey Harris from victory circle and a possible new win record in feature races. Harris needs one more win to surpass the mark set by Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee several years ago.

Sullivan started in the second row and Harris the seventh row. The charging started early as Jay Slager was the first victim on the third lap. Don Sorce running second, spun on the 7th lap and that put Ron Bergsma in number two spot which he held for the remainder of the distance. Harris and last week's feature race winner Bill Bohn, battled for several laps behind

Bill Schill running third before Schill was pushed aside, Harris getting third on the next lap. Bohn finished fourth and fast time qualifier Eddie Loomis did a spectacular job getting through for a 5th place finish. Tom Anderson's car lost a coil wire and he parked it in the number four turn at the same time that Ken Hanson spun there. This narrowed the groove down to some thrilling driving but the red flag was judged not necessary by starter Roger Cox.

The semi feature race for 15 laps had four restarts before it was concluded with Bill Klein of Burlington being the only Wisconsin driver to score a win on this fast night cheered by 3467 fans. Heats were won by Denny McKay, Elgin; Paul Cameron, Round Lake; Sullivan and Anderson.

Jack Aschenbrenner set fast time in the Sportsman stock cars and won the feature. Champion Jim Boehles was headed for the front when a crash took him out for the night. Joe Greske, Stan Semik, and Boehles won heats.

Semik won the semi feature.

Tax Group Wants Fiscal Responsibility

Fiscal responsibility must be assumed by governmental officials in both the executive and the legislative branches of government, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois said today.

Recent attempts by the Congress to appropriate funds in excess of the administration's proposed budget could cause a return to runaway budget deficits of alarming proportions. The passage by Congress of the $4.4 billion education appropriation measure and the $18 billion measure to finance such agencies as the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the space agency, and the Veterans Administration are examples of unwise excesses for an economy which is fighting inflation. Both recommendations combined were nearly $1 billion over the administration's budget recommendations.

The President demonstrated firm leadership in vetoing these two measures on August 11, 1970, and in an earlier veto of a large appropriation for hospitals. While the needs of our nation for such things as education and hospitals are enormous, still a degree of restraint must be exercised in reasonable limits. The goal of a balanced budget should not be forsaken by the Administration if skyrocketing prices and taxes are ever to be checked. We cannot have more and more services and lower taxes simultaneously; thus, the Congress should reassess its spending priorities concerning defense versus domestic needs and try to provide both within reasonable spending limits.

In the meantime, the Congress should be encouraged to sustain the Presidential vetoes and pass reasonable appropriations for these services. While it might seem advantageous for a Congressman to vote more and more services for the people in an election year, he should remember that the recipient of the services is, in most instances, a taxpayer who is feeling deep-rooted concern over spiraling prices and staggering tax bills.

Both the Executive branch of the Federal government and the Congress share the responsibility for deficits of alarming proportions that appear to be imminent. The Administration should not back away from its balanced budget objective, and should firmly resist unrealistic and unwise spending increases with the veto pen. And Presidential vetoes of appropriation measures in excess of administration requests should be sustained.

Bruce (Joanne) Crockett, Loon Olivos, Calif., two brothers: Joseph (Pep) Vistain of Antioch and Edward Vistain of Berwyn, Ill.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. this (Thursday) Sept. 3, at St. Peter's Church in Antioch. Interment will be in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Antioch.

Friends called at the Strang Funeral home in Antioch, after 3 p.m. Wednesday. Parish prayers were recited at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the funeral home.

World War II Veterans Home Loans Ended

July 25 marked the end of home loan benefits for World War II veterans, but the deadline did not affect current home loan benefits for other veterans. Administration of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson pointed out that Korean and Vietnam era veterans are still eligible.

Johnson said that two million World War II veterans, who were still eligible, failed to utilize this home loan benefit. He noted, however, that nearly eight million G.I. and direct loans, valued at about $80 billion, were made under the program shortly after World War II.

More than five and one-half million of these loans went to World War II veterans, and the remainder to Korean and post-Korean veterans.

Several million other veterans of World War II failed to use their loan guarantees prior to the deadline, but their entitlement had expired prior to the cut-off date.

Johnson said that "veterans had proved to be good credit risks." Nearly four million of the guarantees or direct loans have been paid off, with only three per cent defaulting on the obligation.

Loan guarantee benefits for Korean conflict veterans will continue until January 31, 1975. Also more than seven million veterans who served after January 31, 1955, are still eligible under the current loan program.

These veterans have 10 years of basic eligibility from date of their discharge to apply for guaranteed loans, plus additional time under a formula based on length of service. The law does not allow eligibility to extend beyond 20 years after the veteran's separation from active duty.

John B. Naser, director of the VA regional office in Chicago, urged eligible veterans interested in obtaining guaranteed loans in Illinois, to contact his office at 2030 West Taylor Street, Chicago, Ill. 60612.

Special Grants Offered

Special $400 grants-in-aid are being offered to non-Indiana veterans by Vincennes University, located at Vincennes, Indiana.

Vincennes University, Indiana's oldest institution of higher learning, is the state's only public, community junior college.

Because of being Indiana's only junior college, Vincennes University has realized a rapid development in vocational-technical areas of study. It offers more than 30 two-year programs leading to an Associate Degree. These grants may also be used for regular academic transfer programs.

University officials said the special grants-in-aid program was instigated to recognize out-of-state veterans and to give them the same opportunity as Indiana veterans. These grants, in effect, would eliminate out-of-state tuition costs for non-Indiana veterans.

To be eligible for these grants-in-aid, veterans must have been honorably discharged, and be eligible to receive veterans' benefits. Qualified veterans will be accepted for any curriculum currently being offered by Vincennes University. Because certain programs are limited by equipment and laboratory facilities, the usual number admitted to any one program will not be excluded. Should some vocational-technical programs be filled to capacity by prior enrollments, students may enroll in a general education curriculum until an opening in the desired program is available.

Veterans wishing additional information and applications have been asked to send copies of their Certificate of Eligibility, which may be obtained from Veterans Administration office.

Correspondence and eligibility material can be directed to the Dean of Admissions, Vincennes University, Vincennes, Indiana, 47591.

Douglas To Retire On Own Request

Announcement was made by The Christian Science Board of Directors that by his own request Inman H. Douglass, C.S.B., will retire from that Board on October 1 and will be succeeded by DeWitt John, C.S.B., of Boston.

Mr. John has been Editor of The Christian Science Monitor since May, 1964. He will be succeeded in that post by John Hughes, the Monitor's Pulitzer Prize-winning Far Eastern correspondent who was named Managing Editor in June of this year.

For twenty years, Mr. Douglass has served The Mother Church in various important capacities: as Committee on Publication for Texas, as Manager of the Washington, D.C., Office of Committee on Publication, as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, and as a Director of The Mother Church. He is retiring to devote his full time to the teaching and practice of Christian Science in Dallas.

Reluctant though we are to see Mr. Douglass go," the Board stated, "he will have our deep gratitude and love as he returns to the field of labor which has always been close to his heart."

Since becoming a Director, Mr. Douglass has lived in Boston, where his energy and vision have contributed much to the progress of the movement. He will be returning to the city where he first became active in Christian Science. He will conduct his classes and pupils' Association meetings in Dallas.

Mr. John joined The Mother Church organization in August, 1939, as a political reporter. While on leave during World War II he served on the public relations staff at the Navy's Pacific Fleet headquarters and won the Bronze Star. From 1949 to 1964 he served in the office of the Manager of Committees on Publication of The Mother Church in various capacities including writer, radio and television producer, division head, assistant manager, and manager.

A native of Arizona, Mr. John graduated from The Principia College, Elmhurst, Ill., in 1936. He holds an M.A. degree in political science from the University of Chicago and an M.S. in journalism from Columbia University. A lifelong Christian Scientist, he joined The Mother Church in 1927 and received primary class instruction in 1937. He has been listed in The Christian Science Journal as a practitioner of Christian Science since 1958. In 1964 he became an authorized teacher of Christian Science. He is the author of a book, "The Christian Science Way of Life," published jointly with "A Christian Scientist's Life," by Erwin D. Canham in 1962.

Mr. Hughes, in addition to the Pulitzer Prize he won in 1967, was also recipient, in 1961, of a Nieman Fellowship at Harvard University. He was the Monitor's Africa correspondent for six years and later on spent six years as the Monitor's Far Eastern correspondent based in Hong Kong.

He is a native of Wales, and spent eight years with newspapers and news agencies in London and South Africa before joining the Monitor staff in 1954. In recent years he has been known to American audiences not only as a Monitor correspondent but also as a radio newscaster for the Far East for the Westinghouse Broadcasting Company.
